Project Talk Trial Update

Are you ready for summer?

We are! Project Talk Trial will be traveling to Louisiana, Maryland, Colorado, and more to assist in hosting PTT events this summer. Add hosting a Project Talk event to your fall calendar. Make your city one of 75 communities involved in this NIH-funded research project! Project Talk aims to engage underserved populations, which include racial and ethnic minorities, low-income, and rural populations in advance care planning. Hosts receive a $300 grant to support event expenses and event participants can earn up to $90 in gift cards.

We're halfway through our research project and are looking for more rural communities to apply to host an event. Interested? Apply Now!

Project Talk Event in June 2023

Project Talk in Chicago!

Julian Bond, Chaplain at the University of Chicago Medical Center in Chicago, IL hosted a Project Talk Trial (PTT) event last week and we received great feedback from participants. Thank you for bringing PTT to Chicago! Here is what

Julian had to say about the event:

Today's event was very good in exchange and empowering. Participants were receptive to learning more [about advance care planning] but also wanted to share their truths on how to begin the conversation and keep it fluent in their own homes, in their family, and then know how to empower others. That was our exchange today.

- Julian Bond, Chaplain, Project Talk Host
